Mr. Steven Chu
Secretary

Forrestal Building; Room 7B138
1000 Independence Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20585-0800

Dear Secretary Chu:

The Department of Energy provides benefits to certain individuals through a number of programs. These programs include, but are not limited to: (1) Inventions and Innovation Grants; (2) Carbon Capture and Storage – FutureGen 2.0; (3) Advanced Research and Projects Agency – Energy Financial Assistance Program; (4) Fossil Energy Research and Development Program; and (5) a number of other specific cooperative agreements and grants to individuals.

I am interested in learning about the individuals that receive funds or benefits through these programs. For the programs listed above, please provide the following information for all individuals that received any payment from these programs during Fiscal Years 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, who also reported income of $1,000,000 or greater through any agency measurement of income (such as Adjusted Gross Income): (1) name of individual; (2) total reported income for the Fiscal Year in which the payment was made; (3) name of each program the individual received benefits through; (4) amount of benefits received from each program; and (5) total amount of all program benefits received during each Fiscal Year. This information should be produced in an electronic usable format, such as Microsoft Excel.

Please provide the above information by May 18, 2011. If you have any questions, including the format in which the information should be produced, please contact /

Sincerely,

The Honorable Tom Coburn, M.D.
United States Senate
Washington, DC 20510-3604

Dear Senator Coburn:

I am responding to your May 4, 2011, letter to Secretary Chu requesting information on individuals that receive funds or benefits through Department of Energy (DOE) programs in Fiscal Years 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, and who also reported income of $1,000,000 or greater.

Unlike other agencies, with some small exceptions, DOE does not have programs with benefits or direct payments to individuals. The majority of DOE's financial assistance dollars are used predominantly in two ways. The first is discretionary awards in research, development and demonstration programs that require facilities and other resources beyond the reach of an individual. In particular, the cost sharing requirements of the Energy Policy Act 2005 make participating in DOE's programs problematic for single individuals. The second means for distributing DOE funding is through formula awards to state, local and tribal governments, and environmental management grants to communities around DOE facilities. There are a few other smaller programs, but they are targeted to specific activities generally not open to individuals.

For the discretionary awards, each DOE program office determines which opportunities will receive funding, and who is eligible to receive that funding based on a variety of factors, including program authorizations and appropriations, and that program office's portion of the DOE mission. Only one program, Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy's (EERE) "Inventions and Innovations Program," has a component aimed at individual researchers. EERE, however, has not funded that piece of the program in over ten years. Other programs may indicate in their program listing in the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) that individuals may be eligible for award, but the actual program opportunities may not include individual eligibility or, as discussed above, individuals may not have the resources to apply as the prime or may not be eligible for the funding opportunities available in any given fiscal year.

Moreover, since so few awards are given to individuals, DOE does not have a policy of reviewing the reported income of award winners.

We have reviewed our records for the four years identified in your letter and the enclosed spreadsheet provides the information on all individuals that received payments under DOE programs in the applicable fiscal years. In total, three individuals were funded under CFDA Number 81.121, Nuclear Energy Research, Development and Demonstration. Each individual received payments to support the Generation IV International Forum (GIF) Economic Model Working Group (EMWG). The EMWG upgraded existing nuclear-economic models and developed new ones where required to produce the Integrated Nuclear Energy Economics Model, providing standardized and credible economic evaluations of Gen IV nuclear energy systems by the GIF. The product of the EMWG's efforts is contained in Cost Estimating Guidelines for Generation IV Nuclear Energy Systems (2007). These guidelines provide a way to develop cost estimates for the development, design, construction/production, fuel cycle, energy products, and modularization of GIF nuclear energy systems.

Dear Senator Coburn:

Thank you for your letter of May 5, 2011 regarding funds or benefits that individuals receive from a number of grant or fellowship programs administered by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). Your letter requests information on payments made under those programs during Fiscal Years 2007- 2010 to individuals who also reported income of $1,000,000 or greater through any agency measurement of income, such as Adjusted Gross Income.

As communicated to your staff, the EPA does not have income-related data for the grants and fellowships in question and thus is unable to provide the specific information you requested. However, as suggested by your staff, we are providing the enclosed list of EPA grants and fellowships awarded to individuals during the four cited fiscal years. The list includes the name of the individual recipients and associated funding program, as well as the amount of each award.

Again, thank you for your letter. If you have further questions, please contact me or your staff may call [redacted] in the EPA's Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Relations at [redacted]

Dear Mr. Shipp:

The Farm Credit System ("FCS") provides important loans to farmers for a wide ranging of farming activities, including: (1) operating loans for the short-term financing of consumables; (2) installment loans for intermediate-term financing of durables; and (3) real estate loans for long-term financing of land, buildings, and homes.

For all loan programs administered by the FCS, please provide the following information for all individuals or farming entities that received any payment during Fiscal Years 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, who also had an adjusted gross income of $1,000,000 or greater: (1) name of individual, business, or farming entity; (2) total adjusted gross income for the Fiscal Year in which the loan payment was made; (3) name of each loan program the recipient received benefits through; (4) amount of loan payments received from each program; and (5) total amount of all loan program benefits received during each Fiscal Year. This information should be produced in an electronic usable format, such as Microsoft Excel.

Please provide the above information by February 18, 2011. If you have any questions, including the format in which the information should be produced, please contact

Sincerely,

Tom Coburn, M.D.

Dear Mr. Shipp:

Thank you for taking the time to meet with my staff to further explain the important programs provided by the Farm Credit System ("FCS"). Based on that discussion, instead of the data request dated February 3, 2011, please provide the following for all loan programs administered by FCS, broken down by type of loan and commodity:

- Total number of individuals or farming entities that currently have loans outstanding or in repayment status and also have an adjusted gross income of $1,000,000 or more; and
- The total percentage of current FCS loans based on dollar amount that are outstanding or in repayment status to individuals or farming entities with an adjusted gross income of $1,000,000 or more.

Please provide the above information by March 4, 2011. If you have any questions, including the format in which the information should be produced, please contact \(

The Honorable Tom Coburn, M.D.
United States Senate
SR-172 Russell Senate Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Senator Coburn:

This is in response to your letter dated February 16, 2011. In it, you requested certain data relating to the adjusted gross income of individuals who have loans outstanding with their local Farm Credit System (FCS) institutions. As a result of your request, I had the opportunity to meet twice with staff members of the Committee on Homeland Security and Government Affairs. We had two very thorough discussions concerning the operations of the FCS. Further, I was able to supply committee staff with detailed information relating to the financial performance of the FCS for calendar year 2009. I will also provide the staff with the System's 2010 annual information statement as soon as it is available. Unfortunately, FCS institutions do not maintain a database with adjusted gross income data on their borrowers. As a result, we will be unable to provide you with that specific information. We do, however, stand ready to be of further assistance to you in this or any other matter.

Sincerely,

William J. Shipp
Executive Vice President

The Honorable Tom Coburn

APR 22 2011

Dear Senator Coburn:

Thank you for your March 15, 2011, letter requesting information on scholarship and loan repayment programs (LRPs) administered by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) as well as the Pre-existing Condition Insurance Plan (PCIP) program. HHS scholarship and loan repayment programs encourage students, health professionals, and scientists to work in underserved communities and to perform critical research. These programs are administered by the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA), the Indian Health Service (IHS), and the National Institutes of Health (NIH). The PCIP program provides a bridge to make health insurance available to people with pre-existing conditions until 2014, when Americans will have access to more affordable, comprehensive coverage options. Of the programs listed in your letter, HHS only collects adjusted gross income (AGI) information from certain participants in the NIH loan repayment programs.

NIH administers loan repayment programs to recruit and retain health professionals in vitally needed scientific research careers. Given increasing student loan debt, these programs provide an important incentive to encourage recent graduates to pursue research careers to tackle some of the most challenging health issues facing the nation. Opportunities exist in five extramural¹ research areas: clinical, pediatric, health disparities, contraception and infertility, and clinical research for individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds; and three intramural² research areas: general research, AIDS research, and clinical research for individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds. A recent evaluation of these programs has shown that LRP participants stay in research careers longer, apply for and receive more research grants, and become independent investigators more frequently than peers without LRP funding.

Eligibility for NIH's LRPs requires at least a two-year research commitment. In addition, applicants must have substantial educational debt relative to their wages—a debt-to-salary ratio of 20 percent or higher. This measure is based on the applicant's salary, not adjusted gross income, and AGI generally is not collected from applicants.

² Intramural research is research conducted by NIH employee-scientists at NIH laboratories.

By statute, NIH LRP participants repay a portion of qualified educational debt in exchange for a two-year research commitment. In addition, by statute, the programs pay amounts equal to 39 percent of the loan repayments to the IRS to cover taxes.³ Until the end of fiscal year 2010, participants also had the option to request additional funds, in cases where the standard tax payments were insufficient, to offset the increased federal, state, and local taxes that resulted from their loan repayment income.⁴ To evaluate such requests, NIH reviewed tax return information, which contains AGI.

3,744 participants requested additional tax reimbursement payments from 2007-2010. Of this group, eight individuals—or 0.2% of the group—had AGIs over $1,000,000 in at least one of the years covered. (See the enclosed table.) Each of these individuals qualified for the LRP based on their debt-to-salary ratio, but may have had higher AGIs due to spousal earnings and/or capital gains. In April 2010, NIH decided to discontinue this aspect of the loan repayment programs, effective for tax year 2011, in order to maximize the number of individuals who can receive benefits under these programs.

We appreciate your interest in these important programs. We trust that this information is helpful to you, and we look forward to continuing to work with you and other members of Congress on these issues.

Sincerely,

Jim R. Esquea
